Personal Information

I live in Columbia with my husband, Tommy, who teaches and coaches at a school across the dam, and our three kids: McCathern (16), Lily Grace (7) and Jack (6). I enjoy participating in community theatre as an actor, director and producer. The kids take after both their father and me, so with athletes and actors in the house, it's never boring! My family also has a good time taking road trips to places like St. Louis, Colorado Springs, Albuquerque and Edisto. While I'm crazy about traveling around the country with them, I love to curl up somewhere (preferably the beach!) with a great book.
